

The template has a circle in a square, divided into 12 equal sections. (We could have got this using a compass, but let's assume you know how to do this). Put the compass point on each corner of the square to draw the first four quarter-circles.